The Destruction Of Everything (Valley Of Fire)

Adair

A taste of earth and blackened breaths.
Our oxygen is running out.
It's been years wrapped in flesh barely living underground.
An avalanche of scarlet death consuming everything we knew.
For you I'd go to hell and back.
There's nothing that I wouldn't do.