

Some Girls

Adam Doleac

Some girls look just like their mamas
They steal the color right out of her eyes
And some girls, they look up at their daddies
And see the kind of man they wanna find

Some girls jump right in, some girls take their time
Some stand out in a crowd, but I'm still lookin' for mine

Is she in a cab in New York City? Is she sunset L.A. pretty?
Or singin' along to the radio on a dirt road in a small town?
Is she blue jeans or a black dress? A cold beer or a hot mess?
Lookin' high and low for a love that she ain't found

Yeah, right now, somewhere out there, there's gotta be some girl
Lookin' for some guy like me

Some girls want a life time kind of love
That'll catch their dreams and open up their doors
And those girls, they don't run when they get scared
Yeah, that's what I'm lookin' for, and she could be anywhere

Is she in a cab in New York City? Is she sunset L.A. pretty?
Or singin' along to the radio on a dirt road in a small town?
Is she blue jeans or a black dress? A cold beer or a hot mess?
Lookin' high and low for a love that she ain't found

Yeah, right now, somewhere out there, there's gotta be some girl
Lookin' for some guy like me

I don't know her name, ain't got a clue what she looks like
I ain't ever kissed her, but I'm missin' her tonight

Is she in a cab in New York City? Is she sunset L.A. pretty?
Just singin' along to the radio on a dirt road in a small town?
Is she blue jeans or a black dress? A cold beer or a hot mess?
Lookin' high and low for a love that she ain't found

Yeah, right now, somewhere out there, there's gotta be some girl
One girl
Yes, somewhere out there, there's gotta be some girl
Lookin' for some guy like me

Some girls look just like their mamas
They steal the color right out of her eyes
