

Castleman

Adam Lambert

Thank you for the castle thank you for all of the castles made of stone let us call our own father i cant see your train next stop sunshine its only only in the horizon light the fire stoke the coal blow the whistler all aboard next stop forever always castle man castle man
well the winter
it goes on i know but i cant see the ocean world winds are blowing man your station
blow the guns and your commit your ship to see next stop forever always castle man
castle man
and through the crowded memories we next gave our heart and sea and though the road leads back to you castle man a friend in deed you always kept us inside you are always forever always and in our song always forever you are always castle man

and i am for every night a new day is born and im so until we meet again this is your song castle man castle man
