

HELP YOURSELF

Adam Melchor

You got so angry that you couldn't think
So you just sat there and wallowed
Hungry and hollow
Why don't you just swallow your pride?

You got your daydreams and people just say things
And when they reach you, oh, they breach you
Say "I don't need you
It was nice to meet you, now, goodbye"

I can't help you if you don't wanna help yourself
Always blaming someone else

Stop
You know I'm on your side
You're not telepathic, give me a sign
I know it's tragic
And I can't do magic but I'll keep trying

I can't help you if you don't wanna help yourself
Always blaming someone else
