

Lightweight

Adam Melchor

Every new year's eve
I pick up a call
Johnny hits my line
We talk about it all
I didn't think we'd speak
I thought I rang too late
I didn't have too much to drink

I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)

16 on your lawn
Slept outside your house
Percocets and beers
Spent the years blacked out
I don't remember much
I must've missed my fate
I never took enough to die

I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)

Grew up in the burbs
Grew up taking hits
But when I saw you lying there
I grew up pretty quick
Lucky I'm alive
The reaper said just wait
I never took enough to die

I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
I guess I'm a lightweight (lightweight)
