Ordinary Men Abound

Adam Pascal

And ordinary men abound
On every little TV
In every echo inside my head
Can't get away from it now
I'm too entrenched
And every channel I change
And every paper I turn the page
But the rain, it falls
And I'm getting drenched
So I say baby, baby
Won't you join me on this island
The sun is shining, the sun is shining
I never wanted to need someone but you
I never wanted to need someone but you
It's the truth
I never wanted to reach to touch the sky
I wanna stay on the ground
It's an ordinary day I've found
And ordinary men abound
I never wanted to need someone but you
I never wanted to need someone but you
It's the truth
I never wanted to reach to touch the sky
I wanna stay on the ground
It's an ordinary day I've found
And ordinary men abound
Ordinary men abound
Ordinary men abound
Ordinary men abound
Ordinary men abound
Ordinary men abound
Ordinary men abound
