

The One That Got Away

Adam Pascal

I can't help it but I wait all night
Can't help it, but I wait all night without you
Sunday morning didn't turn out right
I come into the morning light without you
You left on the 'A' train, not even time to say
Goodbye to the one that got away
I can be far away
You won't be left behind
As long as you remain, my friend
The easier I see the light of day
You lift me up like a breeze
Slam me down so gracefully, you make it look so easy
But when I don't want to be seen
Times when I can't even breathe
You're always air to me
I won't ask for much now
I know the games you play
Goodbye to the one that got away
