

Wicked Chain Of Events

Adamantra

Here we are
Entwined together in embrace
Bursting towards the farewell
Like blossoms of a withering rose

And shadows fall by order of Evil
The whispering in silence
Moonlight can reveal our goodbye
Consume us to dust

I wish I'd find my way to the place I was before
Back to the crossroads where evil spells were chanted in vain
I would take it back and swear an oath and strike the magic asunder

In the skies
The clouds begin to gather
The shadows from the bonfires
Begin to circle our entourage

Innocence is ravished in the darkness
As ministers of wickedness
Are summoning their troops for a feast
Don't let them get you alive

I wish I'd find my way to the place I was before
Back to the crossroads where evil spells were chanted in vain
I would take it back and swear an oath and strike the magic asunder

Enchanted forest
The witch with her crystal ball
She's floating in the air
With an empty stare

I wish I'd find my way to the place I was before
Back to the crossroads where evil spells were chanted in vain
I would take it back and swear an oath and strike the magic asunder
