

Collide

Addison Road

Hey, doesn't it seem a little strange that we're still standing two feet apart? By now I thought some way, some how the space between us would part

After all life has thrown our way, you're still taking up my heart

Separated, so complicated this life between you and me. Maybe we'll collide, maybe it's alright. Maybe I'll crash into you Friend, is that all I am to you, 'cause I felt so much more from the start. We've lived this life side by side, has the thought ever crossed your mind?

After all life has thrown our way, do I have a place in your heart?

Separated, so complicated this life between you and me. Maybe we'll collide, maybe it's alright. Maybe I'll crash into you

two feet apart?

Separated, so complicated this life between you and me. Maybe we'll collide, maybe it's alright. Maybe I'll crash into you
