

Black Veins

Adept

I have seen the rise of a thousand suns in front of me
I have seen the rise of a thousand suns in front of me

Heavy eyes on the road of life
Cities pass me by like a flash of who I used to be
The sky is bleeding but I cannot see.
Ironically you spoke about painting my picture and colouring me in
But the picture you drew didn't include me
It was only you.
I guess I'm just so fucking tired
It's like I'm daydreaming at night and sleepwalking at day
I can't find my pace nor the strength to stay.
You always said I should be open, honest and sincere
I guess this is a start
So for the next forty minutes I will speak from the heart
And the truth is
Maybe I don't deserve to be happy

Light up the darkness!

Everywhere I turn I see landscapes in grey
It's a colourless world when the blind lead the way
Our endeavours won't carry us back!
The essence of hope still lies on the track.
Will we see a new day in this dead and filthy world?

I hear the sound of a thousand screams
Break through the silence of shattered dreams
Don't ever stray from the path they say
Don't you diverge from the masses.

I have seen the rise of a thousand suns in front of me
But I never felt the warming touch from the sky above me.
I have seen the rise of a thousand suns in front of me
But I never felt the warming touch from the sky above me.
Will the dark clouds swallow me? Will the dark clouds swallow me?

I feel the sickness of the world feeding on me
My horizon will fade away
Light of tomorrow come today!

And as the sun slowly sets tonight
I feel the dark clouds swallow me
A last string of hope gets buried
Death runs in my black veins
Death runs in my black veins

I have seen the rise of a thousand suns in front of me
But I never felt the warming touch from the sky above me.
Will the dark clouds swallow me? Will the dark clouds swallow me?

Let the light of tomorrow come today
We've been hanging on forever on a spark that never came
Let the light of tomorrow come today
We've been hanging on forever on a spark that never came

Let the light of tomorrow come today

We've been hanging on forever on a spark that never came
Let the light of tomorrow come today
We've been hanging on forever on a spark that never came