

Suicide Note

Adept

I'm sitting on this edge and the air seems colder now as the thoughts in my head just go on and on and on like what if I took a step into the clear sky would then my absence make a tear fall from your eye?

I'm sitting on this edge
but whether or not, whether or not I fall my life is falling away (away) handwritten letter, I'm letting you know, letting you know that blood drup fell from my eyelid when you're joking me down joking me down so dethrown now, stept down from your pedestone right now

I'm lost in this moment, but forever I'm free when I'm buried again you so you can't see my tears sincerely yours, always were the last words that I wrote so your crying now when everything is over so dethrown now, stept down from you pedestore right now

I'm lost in this moment, but forever I'm free
when I'm buried again you so you can't see my tears
when I'm buried again you so you can't see my tears

I see the side, with a different light knowing that everything is over and it has been pondering in my head all the words to me she said, she said

knowing that everything is over
and it has been pondering in my head

But I guess this is how the story goes
But I guess this is how the story goes
But I guess this is how the story goes
