

YOU

Adept

This year the summer ended with you

I feel it passing through
Every single memory I have of you
Fuck, it's like déjà vu
Because every single heartbreak comes back to you
I wish that I could turn back time to the start
So we could meet as strangers and fall in love again

What if I said "I love you" on the day you went away?
Would you turn around and say the same?
I don't know

Now I can barely breathe since you went away
So how can I move along when you did nothing wrong?
And I can finally see what's in front of me
So how can I move along when you did nothing wrong?

I always thought that I could carry the weight of your world
I never thought that you would bury me in a hole in the ground
I see the season change
It's like a scenery of a reality to me
I know it changed you, too
This year the summer ended with you

Now I can barely breathe since you went away
So how can I move along when you did nothing wrong?
And I can finally see what's in front of me
So how can I move along when you did nothing wrong?

If this is our last goodnight
I want to choose my words just right
'Cause in the end it's what you do
But time will swallow you too
But time will swallow you too

And even through the darkest times
I will make it out alive without you
Without you
And even through the darkest times
I will make it out alive without you
Without you

Now listen—what if I said "I love you" on the day you went away?
Would you turn around and say the same?
But you stood there in silence
Not knowing which words to say
I wish I could have said "I love you" on the day you went away
But I stood there in silence
Not knowing which words to say

This year the summer ended with you
Now I can barely breathe since you went away
So how can I move along when you did nothing wrong?

Even through the darkest time
I will make it through alive

Without you
You did nothing wrong?
