

Work

Adina Howard

Got my eyes to the sky
Like "What'd I do now?"
It don't really matter how much I try
Got to give 'em what they want
Just to give 'em what they need
I can't let nobody else run my life

So just watch me work, work, work
When you see me in the streets
That don't mean I'm from the streets
So just watch me work, work, work
It takes a different kinda breed
To make it by any means
So just watch me

When I began
I swear I had way more friends to spare
'Cause they were never there, never there
And I realized life ain't always fair
But nobody cares, nobody cares
So here we go, here we go
Nonstop to the top, I'll do it on my own
So here we go, here we go
I'll make whenever, wherever, forever
They'll know, they'll know, they'll know

Got my eyes to the sky
Like "What'd I do now?"
It don't really matter how much I try
Got to give 'em what they want
Just to give 'em what they need
I can't let nobody else run my life

So just watch me work, work, work
When you see me in the streets
That don't mean I'm from the streets
So just watch me work, work, work
It takes a different kinda breed
To make it by any means
So just watch me, work, work, work

It takes a different kinda breed
To make it by any means
So just watch me, work, work, work

So with me, tryna make it from the bottom since day one
Still out here on my grind with a couple of my day ones
How do you prove that what you're chasin' is real
If it's something you can't see
And you're the only one who doesn't think you're crazy
Crazy, ah, ah

It's deeper than the money, the cars and clothes
That I seek (That I seek yeah)
That I seek (Yeah, yeah)
But the money, the cars, the clothes
Are all that they see, they see

Yo, Gas
I've worked too hard to act too soft
Just me and God to depend on
Had friends that fell off and it hurt
I learned one thing about human beings
Opinions ain't never been worth a thing
But somehow they define my worth?
Nah, I am faith
I am hope that you can make it outta anything
Just keep livin' until I prove that it's true
Everything that I been through
Is another check on a big list of what can't stop me
And that list includes you (Straight up)
So I speak life to my situations
Showing out for my generation
More work less conversation
Straight up, I'm a whole different breed
Got a whole different team
With a completely different dream, forever

Got my eyes to the sky
Like "What'd I do now?"
It don't really matter how much I try (How much I try)
Got to give 'em what they want
Just to give 'em what they need
I can't let nobody else run my life

So just watch me work
When you see me in the streets
That don't mean I'm from the streets
So just watch me work
It takes a different kinda breed
To make it by any means
So just watch me work, work, work
Work, work, work
Work, work, oh
