Falling Asleep

Adrienne Pierce

half asleep i dreamed that you were half mine half awake i dreamed that you were half divine i'm gonna let it all slide avalanche ride mountain slide steep but i'll hold onto a few things like the way your voice sounds when your falling asleep thought that i was falling i thought that i was falling asleep i've been awake for days sleep deprived let me count the ways i'd love to be let me count the ways

thought that i was falling apart thought that i was falling oh but maybe this is just the start sleep, sleep is my one cure for this kind of tired my heart's not fractured, it's sprained i tried to clean up the junk but your voice remains i tired to clean out my mind

your voice remains

thought that i was falling for you thought that i was falling oh
