

Running Thru 3AM

Aeris Roves

She's moving alone down the high road, run, run
She's gonna flow where the tide goes but will she keep up?
Take a moment and lie low, undone
Sunsets and light goes, but it will come up

Birdseye view, look down on flashing lights
I'd share my view but she's afraid of heights
Maybe this time I'm just passing by
Lately I feel I might lose my mind

And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside
And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside

I see through the smoke screen, can't see you
And blurry emotions are blocking the feel
No tears in the open 'cause she's too real
But through the commotion, I'm watching the field

Birds eyes view, look down on flashing lights
I'd share my view but she's afraid of heights
Maybe this time I'm just passing by
Lately I feel I might lose my mind

And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside
And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside

Don't run from it
Only two weeks ago you said you love me
Come to me
How you gonna look at me like I meant nothing to you?

And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside
(Gave all of my life)
When I gave all of my love and everything I had inside

Had to get it off my chest, don't digress
Had to come clean with my feelings
I was flyin' like a pilot
Who'll never get to land in the evening
Please don't pretend that we're dealin'
If it's weakened, don't come by
I'll dim my headlights
Hey, see you yesterday
Never said my piece, wanna feel communication
I know about the guy
Know he ain't blood so you totally lied
Ooh what you gonna do when you come through
'Cause it's all on you?
I'll dim my headlights

And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside
And I gave all of my love and everything I had inside
