

Forever

Aesthetic Perfection

Look at me now, how i follow through how can i go on?
This happened once before and so i went it on my own and though my anger will cry out and my life is not for nothing though the angels scream and shout for you they'll follow with me home (?)

And we can live on forever spend our whole lives togehter and i don't know how to do it yet i don't know how it's done

I have to accept what i can't deny so much insanity these apologies you keep offering no longer hold their weight with me but when the sentiment wears out i'll know my life again means something and all this time i force myself it's true i'm stepping further than you know (?)
