

Catch Tomorrow

Afrojack

He lost it all, he's homeless now
Walking on sunset boulevard alone
No place to go
That's when I asked him "what you're smiling for?"
He said "I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow"
And every night she walks the streets
With a little red dress looking for some love
She's out to look
But if you'll ask her "what you're smiling for?"
She'd say "I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow"
Ooh oh oh ooh oh oh
I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow
Ooh oh oh ooh oh oh
I said I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow

On great aunt osh she realized
Everything she loved even goal
All she got is a soul
But if I'd ask her "what you're smiling for?"
She'd say "I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow"
Saw a bold miracle walking hand in hand
No future at all
I get cold
Don't dare to ask them "what you're crying for?"
I know I'm on this road tryina catch tomorrow!

Ooh oh oh ooh oh oh
I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow
Ooh oh oh ooh oh oh
I'm on this road, tryina catch tomorrow
