One More Day

Afrojack

Tell me we'll be alright whatever I might do
I may disapoint you 'cause I'm the one who always messes up everythin g
Being with me is like walking on a tight rope
So bring all of your rope, I think that I was born with broken wings

I'm sorry that I had to start a fire
Just tell me now, where to go
It's getting even higher

If I promise you that I won't fuck up
From now on I'll be better forever
And I promise you that I will stay focused
Only you in my bed, like I once said
But only if you stay and help me find a way
But if I promise you that I won't fuck up
For now I will be better for ever
From now on I'll be better forever

Every time that I try pretending I'm a good girl
Like I'm in a fake world, maybe I just don't have what it takes

I'm sorry that I had to start a fire
Just tell me now, where to go
It's getting even higher

If I promise you that I won't fuck up
From now on I'll be better forever
And I promise you that I will stay focused
Only you in my bed, like I once said
But only if you stay and help me find a way
But if I promise you that I won't fuck up
For now I will be better for ever
From now on I'll be better forever

Would you mind hanging on a little longer?
And I will be just a little bit stronger

If I promise you that I won't fuck up
From now on I'll be better forever
And I promise you that I will stay focused
Only you in my bed, like I once said
But only if you stay and help me find a way
But if I promise you that I won't fuck up
For now I will be better for ever
From now on I'll be better forever
At least for one more day
At least for one more day
