

Our Time

Afrojack

Love has a new horizon
With each day that passes by
I don't care about tomorrow
'Cause right now it's just you and I

Like, oh my God! I, I got this feeling
And for all my life, I never felt this way before
But tonight I, I found a meaning
I believe that this is our time

And we're here in this moment
As both our world's collide
Into dreams that are golden
I believe that this is our time

I believe that this is our time
I believe that this is our time

Why don't we break the silence
Burn like the brightest fire
All of our time is borrowed
So let's make it worth the while

Like, oh my God! I, I got this feeling
And for all my life, I never felt this way before
But tonight I, I found a meaning
I believe that this is our time

And we're here in this moment
As both our world's collide
Into dreams that are golden
I believe that this is our time

Into dreams that are golden
I believe that this is our time

I believe that this is our time

Oh, our time, our time
I believe that this is our time
