

Tomorrow Can Wait

After 7

I'm just a man and I understand
I don't have any supernatural powers to display
And with that said, the stars at night are under my command
But I'm hoping that they're willing to negotiate

Everybody's been waiting for morning to come
But now that I got you by my side, I realize
That we're just too far from being done

Baby, I'm just saying, I want this moment to last
But there's only twenty four hours in a day
I'm so selfish, but I can't help it
I'ma talk to the sun, and moon, and stars, and go ask God

If tomorrow can wait
If tomorrow can wait
Hey, yeah yeah yeah

Ha, and I got lost with you in time, well, baby just inside the se walls
We're making love strong enough to put the world on pause
And it's all your fault, but I promise, soon as we finish
Things will go back to normal tomorrow

Everybody's been waiting for morning to come
But now that I got you by my side, I realize
That we're just too far from being done

Baby, I'm just saying, I want this moment to last
But there's only twenty four hours in a day
I'm so selfish, but I can't help it
I'ma talk to the sun, and moon, and stars, and go ask God

If tomorrow can wait
If tomorrow can wait
Make it wait

If tomorrow can wait
Make it wait
If tomorrow can wait
