

Follow in the Cry

After Forever

Behind your facade hides an indomitable lust for power and tyranny
Taking advantage of your pendencies

Fear is the doom, doom of us all
Instead of exterminating the weed
We allow it to overgrow our function

All means are justified for the "d jihad fi sabil Allah"

I embrace you, accept my soul
I shall make my life subordinate to you Live like your rules and laws prescribe and follow you wherever I go

Follow in the cry

Hang this heretic who's indulged in unchaste thoughts
Silence him such as the laws of the vellums prescribe Pusillanimous massacres the order of the day
On behalf of power-hungry fundamentalists
