

The Stars Are As Lonely As Us

Aga Zaryan

Rest then walk up to the path that nobody knows. You can't turn back, it's a one way trip that you take, a trip hard to fake. when you start your journey there's no turning back, no turning .

You make some friends but ech day we travel alone. They all are Dear, but when you wander remember your song. Have the strenght to go on, cause life has many winding roads and ups and dawns .

You need to climb, just try to never let go. You can sometime s lide down a stream that has a good flow.

Don't lose your way, even though you might feel astray. The stars at night can give you the missing light. Do you know that the stars are as lonely as Us? The stars are as lonely as US.
