

All Fall Down

Against All Authority

the air stings my eyes
the water burns my skin I've seen the reactions through my actions but I don't try to change a thing at all we're taught to close our eyes and conditioned to believe their lies as we watch them
rape the land and skies to build the things
that own our lives
and we'll never stop
were driven by greed
we'll never stop
we take more than we need and they'll never stop the politicians with their lies the corporations wont compromise but still we refuse to change our lives and - we all fall down - we do what is convenient for ourselves without regard for our surroundings or each other and take what we want
and discard the rest
never looking back
at the damage
that we've done
always moving forward
closer to oblivion
