

Paralyzed

Against the Current

Have you had a million reasons why you wish you'd never seen the truth?
Have you looked into the mirror and the clown is staring back at you

I can't control myself, Don't know who I've been
And who is this monster wearing my skin?
A movie in black and white when will it end?
Cause every time I scream no one hears me

It feels like i'm paralyzed, and I can't
Escape from the prison I'm living in
I'm naming the voices in my head
To keep on telling me to give in
But it making me stronger
Fight a little longer
I'm gonna bring me back to life
And I won't be paralyzed

Have you searched for something deeper out of fear that life's a lonely road
Have you roamed the darkest corners of the earth, until you're just a ghost?

I can't control myself, Don't know who I've been
And who is this monster wearing my skin?
A movie in black and white when will it end?
Cause every time I scream no one hears me

It feels like i'm paralyzed, and I can't
Escape from the prison I'm living in
I'm naming the voices in my head
To keep on telling me to give in
But it making me stronger
Fight a little longer
I'm gonna bring me back to life
And I won't be paralyzed

I'm not afraid I can face my demons
Even if they tear me down
If I fall, let me fall, It might take time
But I'll find my own way out
It feels like i'm paralyzed, and I can't
Escape from the prison I'm living in

It feels like i'm paralyzed, and I can't
Escape from the prison I'm living in
I'm naming the voices in my head
To keep on telling me to give in
But it making me stronger
Fight a little longer
I'm gonna bring me back to life
It feels like i'm paralyzed
But it making me stronger
Fight a little longer
I'm gonna bring me back to life
And I won't be paralyzed
