

Sweet Surrender

Against the Current

Echoes in the dark you called out my name
I chained myself in a cellar
Built out of failure and shame
You try and give me shelter
I kept choosing the rain
I'm standing on a ledge above a fall I can't face
But you pushed me anyway

You got me in a free fall
You're my sweet surrender
You wrap me in a white flag in my darkest hours
So tell me will you stay now
Cause I feel like I'm saved now
You got me in a free fall
You're my sweet surrender

Didn't even try to cry out for help
The only thing he ever did
Was help me destroy myself
I'm better now with you even when I'm in hell
You pick up, pull me out like nobody else
Yeah, you push the ground away

You got me in a free fall
You're my sweet surrender
You wrap me in a white flag in my darkest hours
So tell me will you stay now
Cause I feel like I'm saved now
You got me in a free fall
You're my sweet surrender

I take off my armor when you love me harder
All my defenses come down
I take off my armor when you love me harder
I'm alright, I'm alright now

You got me in a free fall
You're my sweet surrender
You wrap me in a white flag in my darkest hours
So tell me will you stay now
Cause I feel like I'm saved now
You got me in a free fall
You're my sweet surrender

I take off my armor when you love me harder
All my defenses come down
I take off my armor when you love me harder

I'm alright, I'm alright now
