

Alone in the Dark

Agathodaimon

Cold and barren day
I wander beneath a light
A light so chill, so gray
That will not pass away

Faces ever pale
Voices thin with fear
Wither beyond the veil
Writhing whispers that I hear
To turn and look upon its face
Brought fear I'd never known
I'm alone, I'm alone in the dark

Shadows haunt me
As I walk the Earth alone
What is the grisly visage
That sears their souls with dread?
What demon constant follows me
And tints the sun so red?

Faces ever pale
Voices thin with fear
Wither beyond the veil
Writhing whispers that I hear
To turn and look upon its face
Brought fear I'd never known
I'm alone, I'm alone in the dark

And when I turned
No face I saw
For the shadow was my own

Faces ever pale
Voices thin with fear
Wither beyond the veil
Writhing whispers that I hear
(Writhing whispers that I hear)
To turn and look upon its face
(To turn and look upon its face)
Brought fear I'd never known
(Brought fear I'd never known)
I'm alone, I'm alone in the dark
(Writhing whispers that I hear)

I'm alone, alone in the dark
I'm alone, alone in the dark
Alone in the dark
