Tree Of Life

Age of Nemesis

Final minute of her sweet life Final moment that lives on forever Her selfishness went n' conquered her meek fright And she threw herself down into the doldrums

She's just flesh and her blood's just mud Damnation's now just a glimmer on her face Her soul's a leaf from the tree of life Is that a smile lurking somewhere beyond her face?

She's a leaf from up in the tree Hey, that's just life, it'll never cease Down below withered leaves rove But up the branches new buds grow

That's our plight in the tree of life We all plummet when we all die Deadly winds rage in the bleak sky Coldly hunting just you and I

Blood sucking, soaked-right-through diary next to her She left her tale with the living here forever I just can't resist, oh the temptation to understand I read it through so it'll live with me in wonderland
