

LOVESONGS

Agnes

You got me leaving out that open door
Somehow I knew that I was wasting
My love with you had lost that summer feel
And just like the autumn leaves
I knew we were falling free
I'm giving in to all of the changes
A part of me has to know
How it feels to be without you now
Yeah now

Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself

You got me leaving out that open door
Somehow the memories are fading
Into something new
And just like the autumn leaves
I knew we were falling free
I'm giving in to all of the changes
A part of me has to know
How it feels to be without you now
Yeah now

Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
But now I know, this time I know
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself

By myself
By myself
By myself
By myself
By myself

Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself now
But now I know, this time I know
Lately I've been singing love songs by myself, by myself
