Before My Eyes

Agnostic Front

Right before my eyes I've been betrayed I've worked so hard and everything I fucking gave you haven't changed A rat, a traitor, digging yourself a grave... Right before my eyes. I see all your shame I feel all your pain You have turned your back I'm in a rage, can't control My feeling I've been upstaged Life in a cage, no longer human burning from all the hate, Against the grain I live this life every single fucking day Nothing to save something that was will never be that way again
