Isolated

Agnostic Front

Open your eyes, take a look inside
Something's gotta change
So much hate that I can't relate
I've lost so much faith

You threw it away
All for nothing!
And you are your worst enemy

Just stop!
Stop reaching out to me, I want no part of this Step back!
Why can't you see no one's listening

Point the anger in the right direction
Don't let it get away
Push comes to shove and now you're isolated
Once a warrior, it's all a fucking shame

You threw it away
All for nothing!
And you are your worst enemy

This will all go down in history
All over the news, the word on the street
This will all go down in history

You created your own destiny
Now it's your time to lay in it
This will all go down in history

That's the word on the street
That's the word on the street
And fuck your apology!
