Out of Reach

Agnostic Front

Never so many times I've heard before
Discouragement go to work and feel so bored.
There's something in my head Something in my heart.
Too many people never fight for what they want.
Breakin' my back for a better way-its out of reach.
Something inside says it's a long way coming-so out of reach.

Listen so many times I've heard their cries.
All the disappointment and all the lies.
There's something about it something they want.
Too many people unsatisfied with what they got.

If we stand together for what is right
We'll show them just how to fight.
Break the laws that tread on me. On me!

Freedom so many times I've heard that shit.
All the propaganda, I can't deal with it.
There's something for me, something for you.
Too many excuses, too much shit to shovel.
