

Slamming at the club just the other night

It was so cool, even got in a fight

It was all right cuz the bros were there

Mellow on the outside so nobody cared

Then came something to fk up our scene

Assholes who throw bottles, to prove that they're mean

Kicking holes in the wall don't mean that you're cool

When this place is closed, you'll know you're the fool

Police have the power to stop our gigs

Can't you see the thrashers encourage the pigs?

Throw 'em in the pit, if they think they're tough

I'm telling you this for the future of us
