Ejection

Aha Gazelle

You were right there cheering for me
Before I learned how to ball
When others started disappearing on me
Playing games
You never once put me on pause

We was supposed to ball forever
(I should know it but I chose to ignore it every time)
Running numbers in the mall forever
(We were lying, we were smiling, act like everything is fine)
Riding 'round in foreign cars forever
(I should know it but I chose to ignore it every time)
Become a boss and be in charge forever
(We were lying, we were smiling, act like everything is fine)
Yeah, what happened to "Let's ball together"?
(I should know it but I chose to ignore it every time)
What happened to "We gon' be stars together"?
(We were lying, we were smiling, act like everything is fine)
Fly to Jupiter and Mars together
(I should know it but I chose to ignore it every time)
We was supposed to have it all together
(We were lying, we were smiling, act like everything is fine)
But I had to give you an ejection

I hope that you know that's my way of being nice
That's too technical so that means you fooled me twice
Not again, even though you were my favorite, Vanessea

Faithful girl, when you wearing a crown
When you was running your mouth I was running the mile
And this forever it will never end
I'm in the lead
I'm not changing my speed

I got family members who praying for me
But what I know that wasn't [?]
