

Cool

I'm a unicorn
I been poppin' way before there was a kettle
I been lifting weights while I'm writing rhymes
This ain't even rap this is heavy metal
I'm overhaul
I can break it down and put it back together
Gotta remote I can point up at the sky and control the weather
I can do whatever, I can go wherever
I don't pull on levers, I just push the pedal
You'll be pushing daisies If you pull my petals
Ima pull up on ya, Ima fade away
Forget the fundamentals
If you pulling strings, that's a bullet in the head of Geppetto
He cap that's why Avengers all assemble
I'm the bat look in the sky and see the symbol
You a rat that's looking for a little nibble
Crybaby sucking on his mama nipple
When I tell the truth, they start walking out Jesus healing cripples
When I say his name demons start to tremble
Gotta guard my mind 'cause sometime is sinful
I ain't hiding but I'm Dr. Jekyll
I got different sides running through my mental
Need to close my eyes on all these Cinderella's
I get crazy thoughts that involve pretzels
She like "Ooh, Aha, you got some dimples"
Kill 'em with my smile, my health care got dental
I'm just bein' real, quit bein' judgmental
Better heed my warning 'cause God gon' get you
These days, I avoid the pencil
I just let the Spirit flow through my temple
Life complicated, it was never simple
If I'm ever wrong, I hope I don't offend you
Most of the time they ain't even write, they just like to scribble
This ain't black or white, the war was never civil
Left and right got everybody on a swivel
One percent is playin' keep away and guess who in the middle
I was bein' prayerful, you were bein' wishful
When you gettin' money, everybody kiss you
First they say they love you, then they try to diss you
Phone full of texts, talkin' 'bout I miss you
Then they try to flex, brudda what's the issue
Go and place your bets and see how much it gets you
None of us immortal, everybody shrivels

This dude is a fake and a liar
I will never support these kind of artists
