

Black Monday

AHI

Darling, lay all your worries down
I'll be right here, I'll be right now
It's Black Monday with raging clouds
Nothing can shake us or wipe us out
Even when shadows come crashing down
There's still a light to be found
It's Black Monday, I feel your doubts
But those doubts can't live in our house

I want you to remember
Life gets hard, but not forever
Long as we both stick together
We'll make do with what we got
Let's hold onto the memories
We'll make more, we'll make plenty
Don't you be afraid to tell me
When you're running out of heart

Oh when you're lost, when you're losing faith
'Cause eventually everything breaks
When it all keeps slipping away
I'll hold you, you hold me the same
We'll hold this world together

I see you walking on the edge of hope
You've been hanging off a tightrope
And when you fall, oh, you fall alone
But that's not how our story goes

I want you to remember
Life gets hard, but not forever
Long as we both stick together
We'll make do with what we got
Let's hold onto the memories
We'll make more, we'll make plenty
Don't you be afraid to tell me
When you're running out of heart

Oh when you're lost, when you're losing faith
'Cause eventually everything breaks
When it all keeps slipping away
I'll hold you, you hold me the same
We'll hold this world together

Days and times pull hard, try to pull you apart
But don't let it stop you
You keep holding on, don't let it pull you apart
And know that I got you

Oh when you're lost, when you're losing faith
'Cause eventually everything breaks
When it all keeps slipping away
I'll hold you, you hold me the same
We'll hold this world together

Oh when you're lost, when you're losing faith
'Cause eventually everything breaks

When it all keeps slipping away
I'll hold you, you hold me the same
We'll hold this world together

Darling, lay all your worries down
