

Until You

AHI

Everything I've lost
Is all I've got
There ain't much I can give
But I'll give you everything

Anything you had
You gave me half
When I was living with nothing
You helped me believe in something

Didn't know where to go, was alone on the outside
Everyday I was waiting to say it's about time
I find one to keep me warm

I was one of the wandering
Trying to fight through the elements
Time stood still when you first walked in
Fate made plans I could never predict
I was empty, lost without a clue
Until now
Until you

Never one to beg
Mmm, still you lent your hand
Found me street penniless
You reached down and crowned me king

Didn't know where to go, was alone on the outside
Everyday I was waiting to say it's about time
I find one to keep me warm

I was one of the wandering
Trying to fight through the elements
Time stood still when you first walked in
Fate made plans I could never predict
I was empty, lost without a clue
Until now
Until you

Oooh yeah, yeah, and the mornings are golden as your heart
I was down the darkness until you came along

Didn't know where to go, was alone on the outside
Everyday I was waiting to say it's about time
I find one to keep me warm

I was one of the wandering
Trying to fight through the elements
Time stood still when you first walked in
Fate made plans I could never predict
I was empty, lost without a clue
Until now
Until you

Everything I've lost
Is all I've got
There ain't much I can give

But I'll give you everything
