

Tears

Aidan Martin

Heartaches and band-aids, but that never holds
Waited till midnight, but you didn't call
Champagne and good times is all that you show
I've seen your worst side and I didn't fold

I can feel you drifting off to strangers when I know who I belong to
I keep giving all of me, but I need someone that I can hold onto

I'm crying rivers and oceans
Tryna keep myself floatin'
But this feeling never disappears
I'm drowning, wishing you were here
But all you left me was tears, tears
I'm drowning, wishing you were here
But all you left me was tears

I'm stuck with the memories, you're so beautiful
You left me empty when my heart was full
These bottles of weakness, drinking alone
Trying to forget, but I can't let you go

Oh, I'm crying rivers and oceans
Tryna keep myself floatin'
But this feeling never disappears
I'm drowning, wishing you were here
But all you left me was tears, tears
I'm drowning, wishing you were here
But all you left me was tears

I can feel you drifting off to strangers when I know who I belong to
I keep giving all of me, but I need someone that I can hold onto

Oh, I'm crying rivers and oceans
Tryna keep myself floatin'
But this feeling never disappears
Oh, I'm drowning, wishing you were here
But all you left me was tears, tears
All you left me was tears
Oh, all you left me was tears
Ooh, all you left me was tears
