Gamma Ray

Aimee Mann

You build bombs, you're familiar with explosions the flat palms of the holiday but there's slime crawling back up from the ocean you can't keep everyone at bay Gamma Ray Gamma Ray

It all starts with an accident or failure it all starts with a great big bang and guess who's gonna have to play the jailer? and guess who's gonna lead the chain gang?

and one thing leads to another and none of it's good none of it's good, none of it's good

There's some flaw that you cannot help but foster there's some weakness you can't forgive and from that, you've been turned into a monster a nightmare that you force yourself to live Gamma Ray Gamma Ray
