Kiss instead of saying "See you later"
Hug instead of saying "How was your day?"
Kiss instead of saying "Good night"
Sex instead of saying "I'm not sleepy yet"
When you get out of the bath
Let me sniff you for a bit
Please don't smoke yet
Let's drink some red wine

I wouldn't be in love with you just for distracting myself from being sad
I like your voice, the way you laugh
You are not that nice to me and obsessed with work, though
We went to see lion cubs just the other day

When will you be fed up with me?
Expecting such a thing all the time
I wonder if you think I'm a little devious

I forbid you to say your goodbyes
But it's always me who say "Good bye"
Love relationship that develops egocentrically and
Concerns about the future have blended, embraced each other
And made me the person I'm today

It's F chord, it's G chord, it's D chord
Have you improved your guitar playing since I taught you?
I thought I knew your choice of coffee at convenience stores
But the shock to learn that I misjudged it will make me sleepless tonight

When will you be fed up with me?
Thinking such a thing all the time
I wonder if you think I'm a little devious

Every time I say "I love you," you silently nod
And say "I know" with a smile
Everyday life filled with your broad smile
And husky voice have satisfied me
Made me happy and made me the person I'm today

I've never thought that I'd be happy just to be with you
But don't get me wrong
I'm not saying I don't like you
I don't even know why I'm crying

I want you to love me forever, though
Being selfish like this all the time
I wonder if you think I'm a little devious
Have I let you down?
Have I turned you off?

I forbid you to say your goodbyes
But it's always me who say "Good bye"
Love relationship that develops egocentrically and

Concerns about the future have blended, embraced each other
Satisfied me, made me happy, made me love you
Made me hate you a little and made me the person I'm today
