I wonder how many times I can fall in love before turning 20
I seek something today as usual

As in the past, I wash my heart until it turns white
Without leaving a stain
I wash it with soft bubbles

He still can't forget her
So he puts white flowers in the river

People are bound to regret something
Say, hurting someone with small lies
Even so, we can't help wanting to love

Falling in love, growing out of love
Being jealous, kissing

I learned a bit to love in this town

Come to see me again, please
I was ridiculously in love with you
Don't disappear, please
I want to know you more

I wonder how many jackpots I can hit out of 10
I seek something today as usual
My heart seeks something tender

Things like the red coat that she loved
The unforgettable place where we first met
Somehow this town seemed important to me

Come here again, please
Your smiling face seen through the finder was my favorite
Let's keep that our secret forever

Although I want to be by your side like I was that day
I know people come and go
But, I'm sure that this is a miracle
Falling in love with you, taste of your kiss
Everything is a story

So, be sure to come to see me again
I was ridiculously in love with you
Don't disappear, please
I want to know you more

A day when my heart gets extremely dirty
I wash it, recalling the memories of that day
With soft bubbles, I wash my heart
