Nothing is safe from being forgotten
There are only memories you don't want to give up
Don't so flippantly tell me
That I should be over it by now

The aroma of the evening is painful
My dinner won't go down
Just like a classic portrait, look
I'm so easily crying

Because I loved
I thought the sky was beautiful
Because I loved
I looked forward to tomorrow
Because I loved
I knew you

Nothing can be taken for granted
Because it'll one day be lost
Then when I found you
I thought it was destiny, ah

Furthermore, I loved you
More than you thought I did

I loved you, I loved you, I loved you
Now it's incredibly painful

Because I loved
I thought the sky was lonely
Because I loved
I was a bit scared of tomorrow
Because I loved
Because I loved, ah

I had dreams I didn't want to wake up from
A lonely shadow looking for you
The loneliness, the painfulness
The longing, the affection
It all was

Because I loved
Because I loved

Nothing is safe from being forgotten
There are only memories you don't want to give up
Nothing can be taken for granted
Because it'll one day be lost
