Hope Springs Eternal

Air Supply

Pictures of you race across my mind Filling all the space there is to find Melting love's own ice that lay so frozen I give that sacrifice for feeling chosen

So if I face another day without you next to me I'll lock you in my mind and wish away the key

Hope springs eternal when your near All the passion reappears All emotions seems so strong

Hope springs eternal thru your eyes Draws me closer to your side And keeps me there where I belong

Given back the trust that was so fleeting Captured by the one my heart was seeking Taken to my destiny's horizon Searching for the moon we see it rising

And in the silence of the night, I hold you next to me Feeling dreams take flight, they set the spirit free

Hope springs eternal when your near All the passion reappears All emotions seems so strong
