

It's You

Air Traffic Controller

So you think you're done waiting
For something that'll never come
You think you're done trying
Cause trying never got it done
So many ways for you to get there sooner
And so many people you depend on too
But it's you

So get out of that habit and get out of that stubborn mind
If it happens for a reason there's a reason that you better find
A fish out of water is the luckiest one
Cause none of the others get to feel the warm sun

It's you
Oh, can't you see that it's you
You say it's me
But I know it's you

Making something out of nothing
Now it's tougher than it was before
Tell me how many times we gotta open and close this door
All of the plans we used to talk about
Are the very things turning me inside out
Now

Look at us here between a rock and a hard place
You know there's nothing about me that ever really you're gonna change
I'm sick as a dog of you accusing me
We'll always be a puzzle with a missing piece
Please

It's you
Oh, can't you see that it's you (I see that it's you)
You say it's me (you say it's me)
But I know it's you (I say it's you)
I know it's you (you)
No no no no, it's you
I know it's you

A lover and a fighter am I finding out they're one and the same?
Are we holding out, freaking out, looking for somebody to blame?
We go to battle but we're doing all right
Cause we're both still standing here side by side

It's you
Oh, can't you see that it's you (I see that it's you)
You say it's me (you say it's me)
But I know it's you (I know it's you)

Oh, can't you see that it's you (I see that it's you)
You say that it's me (you say it's me)
But I know it's you (I know it's you)
