

Finding Our Way

Aisha Badru

Keep a strong mind and a light heart
The castles you build will one day fall apart
So keep your eye on the horizon
But don't forget where you are
Hanging on to the shore
When life is a ship that's already left the port
You don't have to be perfect
That's what the journey is for

We are all finding our way
The best way we know how
There is no better place for you to be
Then where you stand
Right now

It's not always as it seems
It's hard to see the forest
When you're out amongst the trees
Trust the north star is inside you
Guiding you through everything
So shoulders down, head up
The wind and the rain
Will soon start to let up
I learned to dance in the puddles
And sing when the going gets rough

We are all finding our pace
The best way we know how
There is no better place for you to be
Then where you stand
Right now

We are all finding our way
The best way we know how
There is no better place for you to be
Then where you stand
Right now
