

Inside

Aisha Badru

I wrote a letter to myself
Said you can do better all by yourself
Don't settle for stones, you deserve a mountain
Don't settle for drops, you deserve a fountain

Buried within, there's a light inside you glistening
In there you will see
You have all you ever thought that you have
Needed from out there
You have always been complete my dear
One day you will find
That the greatest love story is unfolding inside

Learn how to stand up for yourself
Never give your power to someone else
Stop swimming in puddles when you are the ocean
You are deserving of love and devotion

Buried within, there's a light inside you glistening
In there you will see
You have all you ever thought that you have
Needed from out there
You have always been complete my dear
One day you will find
That the greatest love story is unfolding inside
Is unfolding inside