

Tunnel

AJ Rafael

I know who you are
And I know I'm usually quiet
I know that I should talk more
But if you knew the thoughts in my head
You'd know who I am, and how much we're the same
I know what we've both been through
And you should know that you're not small
You're beautiful

And as I drive through the tunnel, for the first time, I feel like I belong
I feel like I belong
And as I drive through the tunnel, for the first time, I know that I'm not wrong
I feel like I belong

A friend of mine once told me that we accept the love that we think we deserve
I swear you're worthy of much more
I wish that you could see
How much we'd both be free
'Cause the moment, when I kissed you, is stuck with me
And it's not small
It's beautiful

And as I drive through the tunnel, for the first time, I feel like I belong
I feel like I belong
And as I drive through the tunnel, for the first time, I know that I'm not wrong
I feel like I belong

You never played no games
You never been that way
You never cared that I seemed young
When I was always on the run

You made this all so real
I wish I'd change the way you'd feel
I'm gonna miss the way you look at me

And as I drive through the tunnel, for the first time...
And as I drive through the tunnel, for the first time, I know that I belong
