

Snowglobe

AJR

We don't need no flashy limos to take us home
We're fine alone

Yeah, I'm running out like a clock ticks
Running with my head held high
And everyone's looking at me
But they ain't got nothing to say (yeah)

It only seems like the dreams of a boy
Too afraid to stand up
Too afraid to make a choice for me
I cannot go living that way (yeah)

So I
I hold your hand and I
I hold you close
Hear my words like a song, you'll be singing tonight
You'll be singing tonight
You'll be singing and it goes like

We don't need no flashy limos to take us home
We're fine alone
We'll see the world through scratched up glass
Just you and me (and me), were meant to be
In a snowglobe (snowglobe)

Well I'm done with these hypocrites and love lies
Lying out of love to the passion of a robbery
As if you stole my heart away (yeah)

I'm living on in a snowglobe
Looking at the outside world
You are so close I can see
What you could see in me (whoa)

I hold your hand, and I (and I)
I hold you close
Hear my words like a song, you'll be singing tonight
You'll be singing tonight
You'll be singing and it goes like

We don't need no flashy limos to take us home
We're fine alone (we're fine alone)
We'll see the world through scratched up glass
Just you and me (and me), were meant to be
In a snowglobe (snowglobe)

Look outside the window
Snow is falling down
But with her, it makes you want to cry (yeah)
And every single moment that we've come to share
Is more vivid than the world on the outside
Girl I swear, we'll be a dream
Forget the world and live with me

We don't need no flashy limos to take us home (yeah)

We don't need no flashy limos to take us home
We're fine alone
We'll see the world through scratched up glass
Just you and me, were meant to be
In a snowglobe (snowglobe)
