

Let Me Go

AK

Feet up in the Chevy
You're venting all your thoughts, haven't opened up your heart in a while
You said it's been heavy
You don't feel like enough, you ain't worth nobody's love
You say you're tired of thinking back to them other days
You're tired of wishing life was another way
I'm trying to tell you, baby you're not alone

'Cause I been sipping on that whiskey like it's water
When she kissed me I would melt right down
Does she miss me? Why still bother?
But how do we just say goodbye to everything I know
Baby I know
We both been through the same things
But right now you got me and I got you
Just say you won't let me

Don't let me go
Don't let me go

It don't feel right, I can't do that
You saying I'm wrong, I know I'm right
This can't go on, my heart's not done
The pain ain't gone, the time ain't right
Every night I gotta drink another bottle
Just so I don't think about tomorrow
So how do you think it's gonna go?
My my heart isn't here, it's in before

'Cause I been sipping on that whiskey like it's water
When she kissed me I would melt right down
Does she miss me? Why still bother?
But how do we just say goodbye to everything I know
Baby I know
We both been through the same things
But right now you got me and I got you
Just say you won't let me

Don't let me go
Don't let me go

If it was easy enough I give you it all
But I'm tired of the same old lies
Don't know if I'll ever trust, oh I've given up
My heart ain't ready to love so just let me go
Just let me go

Don't let me go
Don't let me go
Don't let me go
Don't let me go
