

Lowkey

AK

Tell me something I don't already know
From the outside, you lowkey a
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey

Too many times you crossed the line, now I'm madden like a free throw
Try to turn my back, ass fatter than my ego
Ended right back where I started, now here we go
Why am I tripping over one of [?] in people
See bro, problems, I don't really need 'em, keep those
She goes crazy, only see me through a screen door
Nowadays, she see me looking flier than an eagle
She know every dude after me just a sequel

Too fly, know I cannot come down
Don't kill the high, I finally found
Now that you found you're missing now

Tell me something I don't already know
From the outside, you lowkey a
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey a ho
Tell me something I don't already know
From the outside, we had it all
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey a ho

Wait for the pieces to fall into play
I waited too long, felt hard right on my face
But we both lie and say, "I'd be okay"
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey a ho (Yeah)

Played off laughing, I'm actually trapped in the place I can't be
The way I've been acting nowadays, family can't even stand me
Got me fucked up, the second I felt no love is when you hit me up
Shit, let's get lunch and catch up, ha
On the lowkey, I could see even more things
Some never before seen, don't think I want the whole thing
I see it all, I no longer want to be involved
I still fuck but don't give a fuck at all, no

Too fly, know I cannot come down
Don't kill the high, I finally found
Now that you found you're missing now

Tell me something I don't already know
From the outside, you lowkey a
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey a ho
Tell me something I don't already know
From the outside, we had it all
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey a ho

Wait for the pieces to fall in to play
I waited too long, felt hard right on my face

But we both lie and say, "I'd be okay"
That some shit I, I should've known
You always were lowkey a ho

Tell me something I don't already know
From the outside, you lowkey a
That some shit I, I should've known
