

You stabbed me right in my back, wow
Told me you'd never do that, now
So much ache in my chest
I don't know what I did
Left me empty and broken, there's

A lot of things, lot of things to get used to now
Why'd you leave? You said I'm someone you're used to now
Can't believe I'm just someone you used till you found you
But now I'm lost in you, no
A lot of things, lot of things to get used to now
Why'd you leave? You said I'm someone you're used to now
Can't believe I'm just someone you used till you found you
But now I'm lost in you, no

Another late night 4 am looking through my phone
Act like if I'm on it ups chances that you might call
Tears mock how I was with you cause all they've done tonight is fall
I know my feelings real cause I ain't never felt like this before
You're in the shoes I usually wear
Love till I had enough
And leave at times that's best for me, not worried how they feel at all
Karma creepin' on me felt it's presence when I felt my heart
Start beating differently with you ski ski skipping like all the rocks
We threw out at that lake house
First vacation we took together
Face lit up like sunrise surprised you
Cause you were stressing with a
Couple things at home but I promised to never bring it up
To no one else but us so ill keep it out this song
I had to write tryna cope with emotional trauma
Maybe I'll find the answers you never gave me I wanna
Really know the way you saw me and felt through the longest
Time I've ever fucking loved somebody's soul, presence and mind and then you

You stabbed me right in my back, wow
Told me you'd never do that, now
So much ache in my chest
I don't know what I did
Left me empty and broken there's

A lot of things, lot of things to get used to now
Why'd you leave? You said I'm someone you're used to now
Can't believe I'm just someone you used till you found you
But now I'm lost in you, no
A lot of things, lot of things to get used to now
Why'd you leave? You said I'm someone you're used to now
Can't believe I'm just someone you used till you found you
But now I'm lost in you, no

I guess that's how it is tho
Always heard love was torture but maybe it's really that simple
I never really wanted to believe in what they said though
But now I'm missing sleep the way I miss the one who took it from me
And when finally sleep the only thing I see in my dreams
Is the one who made my life feel like I'm living a dream
Liver drowning and I still can't escape it

I'm dying to forget it, do anything to erase it
Left me balling tears eventually gon hit a drought
But you chose to join the crowd you could watch now
Watch me ball and turn my Nissan to a double R
While you pretend to be happy knowing you lost out
I'd go, incredible lengths for you just to know
My love
Was realer than anything that you've ever known
Really gave you all of me, and you
Took it all and walked away

You stabbed me right in my back, wow
Told me you'd never do that, now
So much ache in my chest
I don't know what I did
Left me empty and broken there's

A lot of things, lot of things to get used to now
Why'd you leave? You said I'm someone you're used to now
Can't believe I'm just someone you used till you found you
But now I'm lost in you, no
A lot of things, lot of things to get used to now
Why'd you leave? You said I'm someone you're used to now
Can't believe I'm just someone you used till you found you
But now I'm lost in you, no